Findings of Fact & Conclusions of Law

Petitioner did not appear. Nora Brown, authorized representative, appeared for Respondent and submitted an affidavit from the Respondent's wife, who lives in the house with the Respondent. She said that she was dog sitting for her friend Dorothy and there was no money exchanged. Her husband/Respondent was not home and had nothing to do with Dorothy's dog.

The summons alleges that there was boarding service to the public but doesn't state how this was determined and Petitioner did not appear to supplement the summons. Respondent rebutted it with the affidavit.

I find that Respondent was not boarding a dog in his residential apartment.

Accordingly, the summons is dismissed.
