Findings of Facts & Conclusions of Law

Monica Dorson appeared for Petitioner and submitted the redacted idling complaint, weather report, bus route page, overhead picture from google maps a short video and screen shots from it. She noted that there was a name, Flix Bus posted at the location which supported that this was a terminal point. There were people getting on the bus with luggage being loaded. She noted that the temperature was not below 40 degrees.

Ilma Babu appeared for Respondent and said that she was not sure that this was a terminal point but had no evidence to submit in rebuttal.

Based on all available credible evidence, I find that the bus was at a terminal point and loading passengers. The temperature was over 40 degrees so the engine should be off during loading.

Accordingly, the summons is sustained.
