Findings of Facts & Conclusions of Law

The respondent was represented by Ilma Babu. The petitioner was represented by Insp. John McLaughlin. The summonses allege that the respondent's vehicles were observed idling for more than three minutes without valid reasons. The petitioner presented documentation to establish the charged violations. The respondent has denied the allegations stating that the video evidence is insufficient to establish either of the violations. The respondent's representative argues that it is possible that there was activity taking place which would have required that the engine of the vehicles be engaged but it was not visible in the petitioner's videos. However, no evidence was presented to establish that this was the situation at either time. Therefore, I find that the petitioner has established the charged violations, and the respondent has failed to present any argument or evidence to either rebut the charged violations or establish valid defenses thereto. As such, the summonses are sustained, and the appropriate penalties assessed.
